Fiscal Analysis

ASSUMPTIONS:

1. Currently, hours of work and earnings of any kind must be reported on a weekly basis and reduce or eliminate eligibility for benefits. Sections 1 and 3 make hours of work and earnings from certain kinds of work non-reportable, so claimants working in those categories would be eligible for their maximum weekly benefit amount without reduction.
2. More claimants would draw full benefits or increased amounts of partial benefits, causing a negative impact on the trust fund. The impact on the trust fund cannot be determined at this time.
3. Sections 2 and 4 change the way availability for work is viewed. By lowering the standard, more claimants will be eligible to draw benefits.

4. Additional charges to employers will result from increased benefits paid. Tax rates for covered employers may increase. The impact to the rate structure cannot be determined at this time.
